

Resizing the View Controller's Views

A Window Sets the Frame of Its Root View Controller's View

A Container Sets the Frames of Its Children's Views

A Presented View Controller Uses a Presentation Context

A Popover Controller Sets the Size of the Displayed View

How View Controllers Participate in the View Layout Process