About View Controllers

View controllers are a vital link between an app's data and its visual appearance.